

South Campus Community Newsletter

NOVEMBER 7TH, 2020

UPCOMING EVENTS

JackBox Game Night
November 14th, 8pm

Join us to relax before study period with Jackbox Games! Open to all South Campus residents! Please RSVP on campus groups.

Sheldon Court Coffee Chat
November 13th, 6pm

Sheldon Court residents will have the opportunity to destress, take a break, and discuss staying healthy. Up to 10 residents may RSVP.

COUNCIL HIGHLIGHTS

The South Campus Community Council had its second meeting of the semester this past week. There are a total of 11 members from across the South Campus community.

DID YOU KNOW?

Mary White, cofounder Andrew Dickson White's wife, hated Ithaca and English historian Goldwin Smith thought Ithaca's waterfalls were boring.

CORNELL & ITHACA NEWS

The North Campus Residential Expansion (NCRE) Building Naming Committee will be accepting name suggestions for 3 new north campus dorms until the 23rd!

Cornell Cinema will be playing Cane River (1982), a love story set in Louisiana, and Boccaccio '70 (1962), a combination of four films also about love this week.

The Cornell Asian Alumni Association is holding a virtual Diwali Festival on November 13th open to all students, alumni, friends, and family.

Learn about Cornell's Community Engaged courses on November 11th, held by the Tatkon Center!

A new grocery store, Ren's Mart, is opening in place of GreenStar on Buffalo St.

COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT: MEET JULIA!

Year: Junior ('22)      Major: Statistics and Economics      Hometown: Rockville, MD

What has been your favorite class at Cornell so far and why? Economics and Environmental Policy: super great professor and the material is interesting and relevant

What's your favorite part about Cornell or Ithaca? The nature and parks on/around campus!

What do you do in your free time? Write, go on walks, read, and find new shows on Netflix

Who is your favorite artist/musician? Halsey

NOMINATE SOMEONE FOR COMMUNITY SPOTLIGHT: EMAIL LSW85@CORNELL.EDU